made his report to Mr. Wellman and Maj. Hersey.

The pattern which proved to be the most serviceable and which will be used consists of a small siedge just large chough to hold one man and the engine, which is of the ordinary-motor car type. It drives a wheel fastened between the front ends of the deep runners. The rim of the wheel is provided with apikes that effect the necessary "grip" on the smooth surface of the loc.

Another novel feature of the arrangement will be an attempt to keep constantly in touch with civilisation by means of wireless telegraphy. For this purpose wireless telegraphy stations will be established at Hammerfest. Norvay, and the headquarters in Spitzenberg, points that are 600 miles apart.

Annual Invasion of England by American Millionaires Has Begun.

EXTRAVAGANCES SEEN THAT OUTDO ALL OF ROYALTY

Dealers in "Antique" Furniture Made Each Year Are Reaping Harvest.

LONDON, May 21 -- An army of American millionaires, with the usual accompaniment of pretty daughters and open check-books, is sweeping down on London and creating a record in lavish expenditure.

The keynote of this campaign of extravagance was struck this week by a man from Philadelphia, who walked into the Carlton and said he would just take an entire floor for himself and his family. Subsequent arrivals were informed that there was no more room.

Rush Hardly Begun.

The great West End hotels are already crowded, yet the rush has hardly begun. Every steamship is fully booked for the next three months, and so great is the desire to spend the winter's profits in Europe that hundreds of tourists are cheerfully paying first-class rates for second-class berths rather than wait until the "season" is over

More money will be spent by Ameri-More money will be spent by Americans in London this summer than ever before. They are coming prepared to scatter dollars with a reckless hand, for the past year has been one of unexampled prosperity in the United States, and many men have jumped from comparative poverty into affluence.

Some of the Magnates.

All the steamships arriving at Brit-ish ports brought well-known Ameri-can millionaires and their families. Among the Cedric's passengers were Dr. Seward Webb, a railway magnate, REACH NORTH POLE

Dr. Seward Webb, a railway magnate, whose private car is said to be the most luxurious in America, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hanan and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Carstairs, of Philadelphia, all of whom are at the Cariton.

Among the other Americans at the Carlton are Mr. Rodman Wanamaker, of Philadelphia, who engaged the entire floor aforesaid. Mr. and Mrs. Havemeyer, whose fortunes represent the great American sugar interests, and Mr. W. B. Henderson of Boston.

Hotels Are Crowded.

All the great hotels, such as the avoy, the Cecil, the Carlton, Clar-Savoy, the Cecil, the Carlton, Clar-idge's, the Russell and the Great Cen-tral are crowded with Americans Many millionaires had the forethought to engage apartments months in advance. Others who find them-selves without accommodation are offering fabulous sums for suites with a bath. Even the Bloomsbury district, where numberless embryo millionaires lodge, realizes that this is to be a record year for Americans, and hurried preparations are being made to provide ex-tra sleeping accommodations at most of the large boarding-houses.

Harvest for Dealers.

Picture dealers, curio dealers and book-sellers see a prosperous season ahead. The old furniture industry is already booming, and it is believed that this year's output of "antique" Chippendale chairs for American export will break all records at the mid-

Cable Companies Profit

Even the cable companies will profit greatly by the invasion, for all of these millionaires, who have made their money overnight would not consider a trip to Europe enjoyable unless they could conduct their financial operations by cable. The American who breaks into the aristocracy of dollars continues to think in thousands to the day of his death.

Many Tours Planned.

There will be many personally con-ducted tours, in which the gentle "school-marm" from the New England States will predominate. School-marms of the pie belt, which is the old English district of the Northeast, where the people cat fruit ples for breakfast, have only one ambition, and that is to "do England," the home of their ancestors.

Tours are also arranged in every State in the Union, and many prize tickets are issued in various ways. A Chicago newspaper is sending the ten most popular shopgirls-voted for by their colleague-and a Kansas City pork packer is paying for the tour of twenty-five of his employees who have not been late to work during ten

TWO BOYS WOUNDED

The steerable airship, which Mr. Dodard and his corps of experts have completed, is wholly unlike the ordinary balloon. Its great size enables it to lift the car of steel, three meters, two screws, or propellers, a steel beat, meter sledges, five men, food for seventy-live days, instruments, tools, repair materials, lubricating oils, and 5500 pounds of gasoline for the motors.

"In its cargo capacity our ship of the air much," more resembles a sea ship than the small contrivances used by Santos-Dument and Baldwin. M. Godard is constructing for the expedition the strongest and most enduring gas envelope ever known.

Jack Tars Bought Diamonds at $50 a Pint-They Were Glass.

NEW YORK, May 21.-There is so much to tell, outside of the log book record, that it is doubtful if the crew of the Manchester Merchant, docked yesterday at the foot of Forty-sixth street, South Brooklyn, will have the yarn finished before the craft starts away again on her return voyage in

Captain Was Angry.

Captain Foale, the commander, was angry when he learned that the adventures of the long trip from Calcutta had been bruited about by members of the ship's company. "Not a word, said the Captain, "Let the crew say what they like, but no information is coming from me. I may say I have some fine Japanese ware with me but as for the diamonds and rubles and sapphires and other gems that the negroes in Colombo sold to the men aboard, you can't get anything from me.

Supposed Treasure Ship.

The Manchester Merchant is a big iron steamship, which has been plying between East Indian ports and the United States for the last twelve years. Her voyage to this port brought a hold filled with valuable hard woods, and a forecastle bursting with stories of the sea, which gave the Manchester Merchant the fictitious reputation of being a treasure ship.

"But," said one of the men from below decks, "blame me, if it wasn't the rummiest voyage I ever signed. Take my word for it, sir, we ad a snub nose whale tryin' to climb aboard, after he sees the dispendent sees the diamonds what we from a black man, and about twenty of his friends.

Expected Great Wealth.

and was honorably discharged. I was a Captoin in a New York regiment, and am only receiving a pension of $12 per month, under the set of June 27, 1898 I cannot understand why I do not receive a higher rate of pension, in secontaince to my rank, as I am greatly disabled. Can you give me any information in regard to the matter? regard to the matter? CAPT. GEORGE T. H.

CAPT GEORGE T. H.

The maximum rate of pension allowed under the act of June 27, 1890 is $12 per month, and rank is not considered in claims filed under said act. It would be possible for you to obtain a pension according to your rank, under the general law, if you can show that you contracted a disability in service and line of duty while holding the rank of captain, and that said disability has continued from discharge to the present time, provided it is shown that said disability disables you pensionably. pensionably crate service. I am in destitute circumstance and entirely dependent upon my own labor;

support. My wife, the mother of the sold;

You should make application for pension as the dependent father of your son, a soldier of the Spanish-American war, if you can prove that your son's death was due to service and line of duty and that you are dependent. The fact that you served in the Confederate army, under the provisions of the act of April 18, 1900, will not bar you from obtaining this pension if you can otherwise prove your title to the same.

Denver, Colo.

Please inform me how I should proceed to obtain a part of my husband's pension, in view of the following circumsiances. My husband was a soldier of the War of the Rebellion, and he is drawing a pension of £3 per month, and described me and my children two years ago, and has never returned to us. What will I do and what will I have to fornish to obtain this pension?

A DESERTED WIFE.

You should make application under the act of March 3, 1899, to the honorable Commissioner of Pensions for one-half of the pension the soldier is drawing. To obtain the pension provided by said act it will be necessary to show that you are the lawful wife of the soldier, that he has described you for over six months subsequent to March 3, 1899, that you have not been divorced from him; that you are a woman of good moral character, and that you are in necessitous circumstances.

Baltimore, Md.

I am a soldier of the War of the Rebellion, and was honorably discharged after serving three years. I am totally disabled and require the regular aid and attendance of another person by reason of disabilities contracted in the service. What rate of pension am I entitled to and from what date would the pension begin, if allowed?

LINEAS M. 8.

If it is shown that you are totally disabled and permanently helpless by reason of disabilities contracted in the service and line of duty to such an extent as to require the regular aid and attendance of another person, you would be entitled to $72 per month pension under the act of March 4, 1890. Your original pension will begin from the date of filing of the application, provided it is shown that you were so helpless and disabled by reason of disabilities contracted in the service and line of duty at the date of the filing of such application as to require at that time the regular aid and attendance of another person.

It was as much disabled by these disabilities at the time of the original allowance as I am at the present time. I therefore, believe that I am entitled to a re-rating from the date of the first allowance of my claim. Would you advise me to apply the are-rating and increase of pension?

PHILIP C. McD.

You may believe that you are equitably You may believe that you are equitably entitled to a rerating of your pension, but it is not probable that the Pension Bureau will entertain favorably a claim of such a nature. It is not the practice to grant rerating of pensions in any cases other than when manifest injustice has been shown, which may or may not be the fact in your case. It would, therefore, probably be useless for you to apply for rerating, as you have filed claims for increase from time to time without protest as to the original rating. You should, however, make application for increase of pension, if your disability has increased and you are now totally disabled from the performance of any manual labor and cannot and do not perform any such labor by reason of the disability for which you are pensioned. you are pensioned.

Desertion from service during the war of the rebellion is no bar to pension on account of disabilities contracted in the regular army while serving under a contract of enlistment entered into since the close of said war, from which service soldier was honorably discharged. If your husband contracted the disability which now disables him while serving in the regular army from 189 to 1894, and can show that said disability was contracted in the service and line of duty, and has continued from discharge to the present time, he should make application for pension.

No Details Given.

The State department received confirmation of the murder of W. H. Stuart, the American Vice-Consul at Batoum, Russia, in a dispatch from Embassador Meyer at St. Petersburg. No details of the crime were given.

Embassador Meyer having taken cognizance of the case, the State department officers do not believed that it requires action at their hands at this moment.

Vice-Consul Stuart was an Englishmen, 49 years old, and had filled the position for about two years. At the time of his death he was acting Consul Fired on Twice.

Mr. Stuart, having dined at the house of a friend, was returning to his country place at Manziadjant, five miles from Batoum. He was fired on twice from a clump of trees half a mile from his home, one bullet piercing his leg and another his breast Mr. Stearne, the British Vice-Censul at Novo Rossitsk, who was a guest at Mr. Stuart's house, hearing the shooting, hurried out with the servants and found Mr. Stuart lying on the ground bleeding from his wounds.
